".....be clear minded and self controlled so that you can pray. Above all, love each other deeply, because love covers over a multitude of sins." 1 Peter 4:7-8
"Finally, all of you, live in harmony with one another: be sympathetic, love as brothers, be compassionate and humble. Do not repay evil with evil or insult with insult, but with blessing." 1 Peter 3:8-9. The very fabric of our homes is often so fragile, easily torn or damaged. Our relationships with those closest to us can be the most challenging. Living transparently can be somewhat of a difficult task as we realize that we are being watched by those who love us and sometimes by those who don't. Let's really get inside the homes of our families and fight for them on our knees.

May God bless us as we pray for:

The couples - from newlyweds to seniors, couples that have kids and couples that don't, couples that are together and those that are apart.

The families with babies, school age children, teens and young adults still at home. The demands both physically and emotionally can be overwhelming at times.

Our extended family - relatives far away, and near; those we love and those with whom we are struggling. The issues that some of us face can be stranger than fiction.

Our church family - pray for God to heal brokenness - "Search me Oh God and see if there be any wicked way in me and cleanse me." Let's begin with ourselves and as we allow God to cleanse us may we in turn be able to bless others, so that when we come to church on Sunday, we come with the thought in our minds:

"Who can I encourage today?!" and the words on our lips: "I prayed for you this week!"
